

A class of 3rd and 4th graders came in and we discussed the Raspberry Pi's features and affordability, then they had an opportunity to play with Scratch to try simple coding and explore the other games and programs on the Raspberry Pi.

In addition, we incorporated the Raspberry Pi into a coding program with teenagers, encouraging teens to access their Hour of Code projects or the games and programs installed on the Raspberry Pi.